Foreword

Each year we seek new ways of being of service to those who use the Mennonite Yearbook and Directory. Although the time may never be reached when the Mennonite Yearbook will contain all the statistical information to make it perfect in every respect, yet we are constantly aiming to achieve this goal. The support in patronage and the co-operation of church officials are indeed gratifying, and this relationship has made possible the 1950 Mennonite Yearbook.

The Mennonite Yearbook serves many purposes, several of which are of considerable importance. It is a historical record in permanent form of statistics and organizations of the Mennonite Church. It is a statistical picture of the church at work with its interest centered in people, souls, and ideals and not in cold, factual, figures alone. It is invaluable to officials, ministers, lay church workers, and lay members as a reference and guidebook. It could be used also as a guide for classes who wish to study the organizations, conferences, missions, church institutions, and statistics of the Mennonite Church.

Church officials, bishops, ministers, deacons, Sunday-school workers, summer Bible school workers, all missionaries, workers in church institutions, parents, and young people will find, we trust, the 1950 Mennonite Yearbook indispensable as a book for reference and information.

Your attention is called to two new tabulations in the statistical section. One is a compilation of meetings of General Conference with dates, places, moderators, etc.; the other lists the membership of the Mennonite Church since 1904. Other improvements in format, arrangement, and content have been made. Most of these are the result of suggestions received by users of the Mennonite Yearbook. All suggestions for improvement are welcomed from its users.

The fine co-operation and support of all church officials in sending information has made possible the 1950 Mennonite Yearbook. The editor acknowledges with deep appreciation this co-operation and support. Our prayer is that the Lord will use the 1950 Mennonite Yearbook to inspire and challenge all who peruse its pages to greater service for Christ and the church.

Mennonite General Conference

By Amos O. Hostetler, Secretary

Introductory Note to Revised Constitution

Mennonite General Conference since its beginning has operated under a standard of regulations. The first Mennonite General Conference dates back to 1898 which was held at the Holdeman Church, Wakarusa, Indiana. However, to get a complete picture of the beginnings of General Conference, one should not forget the Preliminary General Conference held in 1897 at the Pike Meetinghouse near Elida, Ohio. It was at this preliminary conference that the first set of regulations for General Conference were set forth and sent along in the call for the first General Conference Meeting. In this set of standards or regulations are listed a five-point objective of the General Conference: (1) to bring about a closer unity of sentiment on Gospel principles; (2) to bring about a closer bond of sympathy among the congregations in various parts of the brotherhood; (3) to establish confidence among the different conferences and ministers in their respective fields of labor; (4) to form a body the object of which is to direct the work that is of common interest to all our congregations; (5) to promote further the prosperity of the church. The work of the General Conference was also defined under five points: (1) The General Conference is to take a position on all the doctrines now generally held by our sixteen Mennonite and Amish Mennonite conferences, and which were adopted by the general conference held at Dort in 1632. (2) It should insist that all our church institutions, such as orphans' homes, old people's homes, missions, publishing house, etc., shall be conducted according to the principles of our church, but shall have no power to assume any control of these institutions so long as they are conducted according to the principles of our church, unless requested to do so by these institutions themselves. (3) It shall have power to direct all work. (4) It shall consider such advisory measures as are brought before it. It shall not interfere with the workings of any of our district conferences, nor legislate on local questions except when requested by the district conferences affected by such action. (5) It shall refuse admission to any conference or congregation that is not in harmony with the principles and practices of our sixteen Mennonite or Amish Mennonite conferences. Whenever any of the conferences or congregations depart from these principles, their connection with the General Conference is severed. A third section in the regulations had to do with plans for the conference and the manner of representation in General Conference.

At the 1909 General Conference a revised and more detailed set of regulations were ratified for the rule and guide of General Conference. By 1927 it was felt that the scope of General Conference work demanded a more up-to-date set of rules. A committee was appointed to draft a new constitution and present it to the 1929 session of General Conference for adoption. This was done. A copy of that constitution can be found in the 1929 Minutes of Mennonite General Conference and in the Book of Standards put out by the General Problems Committee.

In 1943 it became necessary to revise Article V of the 1929 Constitution to bring that part of the constitution up to date on committee changes. With the adoption of the new plan of General Conference organization in 1949, it became necessary to revise the constitution again. This revision was done in the 1949 meeting of General Conference at Harrisonburg, Virginia, and now stands in the following form.

With all the revisions and additions made in the regulations of General Conference through these years, the objectives as set forth in the first set of rules have been maintained. The revisions have come about because of the enlarged scope of work of General Conference in the last years.

CONSTITUTION OF MENNONITE GENERAL CONFERENCE

Revised and Adopted

Article I
Name

The name of this body shall be MENNONITE GENERAL CONFERENCE.

Article II
Membership and Representation

This conference acknowledges allegiance to the doctrines of the Bible as set forth in the Mennonite Confession of Faith adopted at Dortrecht, Holland, A.D. 1632, and the Articles of Faith adopted at the Mennonite General Conference held at Garden City, Missouri, A.D. 1921. District conferences whose faith and practices agree with the principles set forth in the said standards of faith are entitled to send representatives to this General Conference, subject to conditions hereinafter set forth.

The following district conferences are eligible to representation in the Mennonite General Conference at the time of the adoption of this Constitution as revised:

Eastern Pennsylvania (Franconia) Conference; Lancaster (Pennsylvania) Conference; Washington County, Maryland, and Franklin County, Pennsylvania, Conference; Virginia Conference; Ontario Conference; Mennonite Conference of Southwestern Pennsylvania District; Ohio Mennonite and Eastern Amish Mennonite Joint Conference; Ontario Amish Mennonite Conference; Indiana-Michigan Conference; Pacific Coast Conference; Illinois Conference; South Central Conference; North Central Conference; Iowa-Nebraska Conference; Alberta-Saskatchewan Conference; South Pacific Conference; India Conference; Argentina, South America, Conference; Amish Mennonite Churches (Conservatice).

Should any district conference not entitled to representation in the Mennonite General Conference at the time of the adoption of this Constitution wish to be represented in the said General Conference, a committee of five members of the General Conference shall be appointed to investigate the eligibility for representation of the district conference making application. The said committee shall make its report at the meeting of the General Conference next succeeding its appointment. If the report of the committee is favorable and two thirds of the members of the General Conference present and voting agree thereto, the representatives of the said district conference shall be admitted as members of the General Conference.

Representation in the General Conference shall be forfeited by any district conference which departs from the faith, doctrines, and general practices of the Mennonite Church as upheld by the General Conference.

Unless otherwise specified in this constitution, a majority of votes cast shall decide all questions.

The General Conference may extend the privilege of discussion for any particular meeting to those who are not members of the Conference.

Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

By John H. Mosemann, President

A year of activity with our Mission Board is alive with variety and challenge. In many types of work discouragement and defeatism result from inability to see the end of a task. But, in the Christian enterprise, years of labor seem to affect but little the total task that needs to be done. Nevertheless, "we faint not." Rather, in the boundless sufficiency of our Master, we labor on to insure the greatest possible harvest.

The year 1949 has added several fields to our foreign endeavor. In India the Bihar area has been set up as a separate organizational unit. This is to be administered as distinct from the work in the Central Provinces. In the Argentine we have set up the Chaco work as a separately organized unit. This latter work is among Indian tribes and is quite removed from our work in the Provinces. Our effective working staff on each of these established fields is slowly rising and is making possible a more effective impact upon the fields for which responsibility is assumed. In India we have celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of our work, and were represented by a fraternal delegation comprised of Brethren S. C. Yoder and Paul Erb.

The year's end witnesses continued ingatherings in Puerto Rico as the church there progresses and grows. Adulthood is still far away but we anticipate a wholesome and healthy growth into maturity. Our first entry into Japan comes in the last days of the year and we can thank God for an opportunity to establish a witness in this land which was once so terribly visited by fire and steel, poor calling-cards from a "Christian" America.

The search for workers continues as the whole horizon of opportunity widens. Youth must be encouraged to honor their convictions by sharpening their tools for service so that the most effective witness and labor might be carried on. The Lord must have a great many more chosen vessels that are available for the unlimited needs about us.

In our home mission efforts a new interest is evidenced in getting the Gospel to the Negro populations of our cities. The best devoted effort available is required for an understanding of the ways in which to work profitably with this need. An effort is also being made to find ways in which our more virile and adult city missions can speedily become self-sustaining congregations. This is indicated in a number of cases and it is hoped that the vision and purpose will be sympathetically shared by those concerned.

Progress is being made, too, in the study of our whole pattern of child welfare ministry. A council composed of interested and qualified personnel is giving attention to the best and most fruitful ways which we can employ in helping the children who need our aid.

During the year the Board has transferred to the Board of Education the sponsorship and responsibility for operating the Mennonite School of Nursing at La Junta, Colorado. Meanwhile, a new hospital, built by Kiowa County, Kansas, has been committed to our responsibility for administration.

And so the work progresses, unrelieved and unabated. In the large family of workers and representatives around the world, the work and the Kingdom of Christ are being implemented. But the effectiveness of this great investment of money and life is inescapably contingent upon the depth of conviction, earnestness of intercession, and sacrificial giving of our whole body of constituents.

Mennonite Relief Committee

By Levi C. Hartzler, Executive Secretary

The Mennonite Relief Committee administers the relief and services' activities of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. The activities include foreign relief and voluntary service. The imperative behind the work of the committee is found in Jesus' own words: "The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many." Since our generation lives in an era of abnormal times, the great human need devolving from abnormal social and economic conditions challenges all Christians to a continuing relief and services' program rather than just an emergency relief program. We interpret Jesus' use of "minister" to mean a physical as well as a spiritual ministry; a physical ministry carried on by spiritually motivated individuals, a physical ministry carried on as a means to an end and not an end in itself. As long as we can keep the witness motive at the center of our physical ministrations, we can avoid the coldness of mere social service.

Relief

Foreign relief is carried on in co-operation with the Mennonite Central Committee. Two types of co-operation obtain between the two committees in operating the relief program: (1) M.R.C. provides a certain cash budget for the total M.C.C. program which is contingent upon funds received, and all goods in kind go directly to M.C.C. shipping points. (2) M.R.C. provides the personnel and the finances for two units: Belgium and Ethiopia, and operates these units through the M.C.C. administration. Personnel and finances for Belgium and Ethiopia are in addition to the personnel and finances for the total M.C.C. program.

During the past year the Mission Board has decided to begin work in Belgium just as soon as qualified personnel is available. In the mean time M.R.C. has agreed to continue with a relief program. The Belgium ministry has been carried on largely among displaced persons from eastern Europe. Most of them came to Belgium to work in the mines and are either disabled or have completed their contract and are waiting to emigrate. Our relief workers co-operate with Pastor Grikman, a Russian evangelical minister, who has been giving his time and talent to the D.P. ministry. In September a worker was loaned to an evangelical children's home near Brussels, which is struggling to take care of needy orphans. The total program in Belgium is geared to fit into the emerging mission program.

Two types of service are carried on by the Ethiopian unit: a health service through the hospital at Nazareth and a teaching service through five teachers serving in the Ethiopian schools. The teachers contribute their salaries above maintenance, transportation, and relief worker allowance to the Nazareth Hospital project. In addition to operating a hospital and daily clinic, the unit at Nazareth carries on a training program for native hospital personnel and Bible classes for native staff members. The unit's work attracted the attention of Haile Selassie, Emperor of Ethiopia, to the extent that he made a personal visit to the hospital. Permission has been granted to open mission work at Deder, about 300 miles from Nazareth, and further permission to open mission work in Nazareth is pending. The mission program is under the direction of the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities.

The relief program in Poland was closed last May at the request of the Polish government. Even before the government request was received, plans were under way to transfer the Poland unit from M.R.C. to M.C.C. by June 1.

Voluntary Service

The growing interest in voluntary service was the main impetus for the appointment of a full-time secretary for service and relief under the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities who would serve as director of service units and executive secretary of M.R.C. He began his service on January 24, 1949.

The summer service program enlarged appreciably as a result of the increased publicity and administrative effort. One hundred and seventeen young people served in twenty-three units. They taught summer Bible schools, distributed Christian literature, visited the sick, conducted evening Bible classes and prayer meetings, supervised dormitories, cooked meals, washed clothes, directed recreation, gave young people's Bible Bible meeting programs, repaired buildings, and did personal work.

The young people represented a wide geographical area of the church with the largest group coming from the midwest: Indiana-Michigan, 44; Ohio and Eastern A.M., 17; South Central Conference, 16; Puerto Rico, 7; Southwestern Pennsylvania and Iowa-Nebraska, each 5; Franconia and Old Order Amish, each 4; Illinois, Lancaster, North Central, Ontario, and Virginia, each 2; Conservative A.M., German Mennonite, Independent, Wisler, and South Pacific, each 1.

Twelve units were associated with the mission program of the church: Brown County, Indiana; Cleveland, Ohio; Culp, Arkansas; Denver and Limon, Colorado; Fort Wayne, Indiana; Los Angeles, California; Meadville, Pennsylvania; Minot, North Dakota and Menahga, Minnesota; Northern Minnesota (Northern Light Mission); Puerto Rico; Saginaw, Michigan; and Youngstown and Fairpoint, Ohio.

Four units served in church institutions: two children's homes: one at Kansas City, Kansas, and one at West Liberty, Ohio; two homes for the aged: one at Eureka, Illinois, and one at Rittman, Ohio. Two units served in general hospitals: Hannibal, Missouri, and Elkhart, Indiana. A colporteur team sold Bibles and religious books and made community surveys in the area around Culp, Arkansas. Another unit provided the personnel for Camp Ebenezer, a Negro children's camp, near Millersburg, Ohio. The unit at Piney Woods School, a school for Negro children in Mississippi, supervised dormitories, conducted Bible classes, served in the kitchen, and assisted with a children's Bible camp. The M.Y.F. Youth Team conducted youth conferences, discussion groups with local church and youth leaders, socials, and other young people's activities in eleven different communities. Mennonite Youth Village builders' unit renovated a house on property which is to be used in the Child Welfare program of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities.

A second colporteur team served in the area around Wild Cat, Kentucky, during October and November. Builders' units are now in opertion on the Science Hall at Hesston College and the Nurses' Home at La Junta, Colorado, and will continue well into 1950.

The Kansas City General Hospital unit which began in September, 1948, is on a continuing basis. We are attempting to keep at least ten members in this unit all of the time. Due to the shortage of men applicants we have not been able to stay by this goal. Unit members serve as attendants on the various wards of the hospital and assist in the local mission program. They live together in a unit home purchased by the Mission Board located only several blocks from the hospital.

We have information regarding a number of other projects which contain opportunities for service and witness, but the personnel to carry on these projects is not available. Even if we could meet our goal of one year of service for every Mennonite youth, we could not meet the need in our world. But how much we could do with even 100 youth in service all of the time!

Peace Problems Committee

By Harold S. Bender, Chairman

During the year 1949 the Peace Problems Committee had two meetings on March 18, 19 and October 20. The first meeting was held in connection with the conjoint special conference of the Peace Problems Committee and the Industrial Relations Committee held at the Mennonite Home Mission in Chicago. This special session primarily for church leaders was intended to acquaint the leaders with the current work, problems, and needs of the committees, and to secure their counsel and help for future policies and work. Invitations to this meeting were sent out to all district and general conference moderators, assistant moderators, secretaries, all peace committees and other directly interested church leaders. Fifty persons were present, and all except one district conference was represented. The following topics were discussed in the sessions devoted to the work of the Peace Problems Committee: Review and Evaluation of Our World War II Experience; Lessons to be Learned for the Future; Present Draft Law and Classification Problems; What About Registration? Our Attitude in Case C.O.'s Are Drafted—If Only Government Camps Are Permitted, If Church Camps Are Also Permitted; Our Indoctrination Program in the Local Congregation; Our Witness Beyond Our Borders; Our Voluntary Service Program, Principles, and Practice, and the Relation to Our Peace Witness.

The personnel of the committee has remained unchanged, except for the retirement of S. F. Coffman, the senior member of the committee after many years of valuable service, and for some shift in the four younger co-opted members. The chairman of the committee spent the summer of 1949 in Europe as a part of a deputation team under the Mennonite Central Committee Peace Section, in a ministry to the Mennonite Churches in Switzerland, Germany, France, and special peace conferences in Holland.

1948-1950 Draft

Our contacts with the government in the implications to us of this Act were handled through the Mennonite Central Committee Peace Section and the National Service Board for Religious Objectors. Our constituency was, however, directly informed and serviced in their problems and concerns as they arose. There have been no draft calls under this Act since November, 1948. Those classified as conscientious objectors under the Act are automatically deferred. To date there has been practically no difficulty on the part of our constituent registrants being thus deferred. The Act continues for a two-year period and will expire in June, 1950.

Peace Teams

The Peace Team concept and interest was first developed within the Goshen College Peace Society and recommended to our committee by representatives from the society. The idea was approved and its outworking was correlated in part with similar projects undertaken by the Peace Section of the Mennonite Central Committee. One such team served in eight communities in the central states during the summer of 1948. Two teams were similarly active in the summer of 1949, one of them in communities between the Mississippi and the Rockies, the other in churches in Michigan, Ontario, and New York. The communities served with this technique in peace education have reacted favorably. Those serving in these teams seem challenged with the opportunities and with the value of the experience to themselves. Our church schools and other agencies have also taken up the idea.

Publications

The publication policy of the Peace Problems Committee is as follows: first, the committee pays for the cost of preparing manuscripts; secondly, it gives manuscripts to the Mennonite Publishing House, Scottdale, for printing, publishing, and distribution; and thirdly, it tries to have the Mennonite Publishing House agree to a contribution to the committee if the ventures are profitable. Since the 1947 conference the following publication projects have been processed or are in process: Studies in Nonresistance, John E. Lapp (5000 copies printed and distributed); What of Noncombatant Service? (a booklet, approximately 6000 copies distributed; the Mennonite Central Committee is using an additional quantity with its imprint); Youth and Christian Citizenship, Melvin Gingerich (a book for teen-agers, published in December, 1949); History of World War II, Guy Hershberger (manuscript completed and now in process of review); Nonresistance in Colonial Pennsylvania, Wilbur Bender (a pamphlet; manuscript revised by Melvin Gingerich; ready for distribution); Heroes of Nonresistance, Elizabeth Bauman (manuscript in process; a book for teen-agers); Can Christians Fight, Guy Hershberger (revision in process by Millard Lind); a number of tracts on peace prepared by the Mennonite Publishing House: "Why I am a C.O."; "What the Bible Teaches About War"; "Think." Several new ones are in process including one on Romans 13 by Ford Berg.

Final Draft Census

The final draft census for World War II, which was taken in 1948, revealed that for the entire church 60 per cent of those drafted entered Civilian Public Service, 10.8 per cent took noncombatant service in the Army, and 29.2 per cent took full combatant service. A study was made of the present church status of the 40 per cent who accepted Army service in both forms, a total amounting to roughly 1,300 men. While the statistics secured are not absolutely final or fully reliable, a general picture can be given of what happened to these men. At least eleven lost their lives in Army service. Only 378 were restored to full fellowship in the church, which means a loss of about 920 members, young men for the most part just beginning their career in the church. While at least 250 of these joined other denominations, and the status of some 300 is unknown, at least 350 are members of no church today. The distribution of loss over the church is relatively uniform, although one or two conferences had a much higher ratio of recovery. Most of our conferences lost three fourths of their army men permanently. This report shows, it is true, that the church maintained a consistent discipline, but it also indicates a disappointing failure, both in regaining lost members and in the original indoctrination.

International Mennonite Peace Committee

As a result of the developments of the last several years, climaxed by conferences on nonresistance in both Germany and Holland last summer, an International Mennonite Peace Committee was organized at Elspeet, Holland, in July, 1949, representing Holland, Germany, France, Switzerland, and North America. This organization expects to strengthen the peace witness among the Mennonites everywhere, as well as by Mennonites to others. Officers are Harold S. Bender (U.S.A.), chairman; Christian Schnebele (Germany), vice chairman; C. F.

Bruesewitz (Holland), secretary; Pierre Widmer (France), and Hans Gerber (Switzerland), members of the Executive Committee.

Finances

The report of treasurer, C. L. Graber, to the first meeting of General Council of Mennonite General Conference, December, 1949, showed a balance on October 13, 1948, of $2,543.38, with receipts during the following year up to October 17, 1949, of $7,554.00. Total disbursements were $9,300.00, leaving a balance of $797.96. The budget for the first year of the General Conference biennium has been set at $10,000, and an appeal of 25 cents per member to our congregations authorized with the expectation that this will bring at least $10,000, so that our work can be carried on effectively.

Mennonite Board of Education

By Roy D. Roth, Secretary

During the past year the Lord has directed the Board of Education through two annual meetings, the first in February, 1949, and the second in October, 1949. At the first meeting, held February 7 and 8 at the Prairie Street Mennonite Church, Elkhart, Indiana, the decision was made to hold the next annual meeting in October, and encouragement was given to pattern this annual meeting after the type of the special Board meeting held at Kitchener, Ontario, in October, 1948. The October sessions were held accordingly on three days, October 20-22, 1949, at the Stahl Church, Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

The adoption of the revised constitution in the February annual meeting makes it possible for the Board to launch more fully into the work of its assignment from General Conference, "the general supervision or co-ordination of the school program of the church." This church-wide responsibility of the Board will be discharged principally through the functioning of the six councils provided for in the revised constitution: seminary, collegiate, secondary school, elementary school, winter Bible school, and nursing education. These councils have all been organized and are beginning to function. (The council personnel will be listed elsewhere in this publication.) These councils will serve in their respective areas in a church-wide capacity, and will be responsible to the Board through the General Education Council. A forward move in expediting the functioning of the General Educational Council was the election of an educational agent for the council. (The general educational council personnel is also listed elsewhere in this publication.)

Another action in the February annual meeting of considerable consequence was the decision of the Board to assume the administrative responsibility of the La Junta Mennonite School of Nursing, which transfer of responsibility had previously been acted upon favorably by members of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. This responsibility was assumed on September 1, 1949. Excellent facilities for the educational needs of the La Junta institution will be provided in the new nurses' home now being built. Much prayer and planning and consideration was given to another move in the area of nursing education, a decision in the February annual meeting to set up a collegiate school of nursing at Goshen College, with a contractual agreement with the Elkhart General Hospital to provide the necessary clinical facilities. The clinical affiliation is to be on an experimental basis and the project is not to include the expenditure of capital funds. Although this proposed school of nursing is yet in the planning stage, definite progress is in evidence, and the Elkhart General Hospital is outlining a building program to provide the necessary clinical facilities. With an enlarged program and increased facilities at La Junta, and the eventual addition of the planned collegiate school of nursing at Goshen, the opportunity will be provided for many more of our girls to receive their nursing education in Mennonite institutions.

An outstanding feature in the October annual meeting was the presentation to the Board of the plan of organization and the working of the various councils. The Board was informed on how the councils operate, and was made aware of its own new broad scope of interests and work, through the functioning of the several councils. A couple sessions were devoted to sectional meetings in which each council, by means of a well-planned program of addresses and discussion periods, made luminous its area of concern and service. These sectional meetings were attended by quite a number of individuals interested in the respective areas.

The institutions administered by the Board continue to serve the cause of Christ and the church. Enrollments have decreased but slightly. The budgets for buildings on our campuses continue to be large, and it is necessary to continue to bring the financial needs of the institutions to the attention of the brotherhood. And faculty members continue to serve sacrificially in these institutions that our children and youth may receive a Christian education.

Figures for the past school year indicate that in our total church educational picture we have one seminary, three colleges, five high schools, one nursing school operating, one nursing school developing, forty-three Christian day schools, and twenty-four short term winter Bible schools. These various educational units scattered throughout all sections of our church are reaching approximately six thousand children, youth, young people, and adults, through more than three hundred Christian teachers. It is quite imperative, therefore, in the light of the increase in the total educational effort in our church, that we repeatedly study the philosophy undergirding our educational program. What are our objectives? We say they are spiritual. But it is not enough simply to say or to write that our objectives are spiritual. Those who serve in our schools, those who serve on the Board, yes, our total constituency, all must be continually vigilant and alert, in order that our educational objectives be, and continue to be, spiritual. We know that the inroads of secularism and modernism are subtle; but these are not the only temptations to be faced or the only errors to be guarded against. And even vigilance is not the whole program. There must be in our schools a positive and constructive inculcation and promotion of historic Anabaptism in its fullest meaning for our day. There must ever be a dynamic recognition and appreciation of who we are, whose we are, and whom we serve. Pray much for our beloved church in her ongoing program of Christian education according to the will of God.

Mennonite Publication Board

By J. C. Wenger, Vice-President

The Mennonite Publication Board is composed of thirty members: three elected by Mennonite General Conference; twenty-one elected by Mennonite district conferences: five members-at-large elected by the Board; and the Publishing Agent of the Board. At the present time the membership of the Executive Committee is as follows: President, Simon Gingerich; vice president, J. C. Wenger; secretary, Harold Zehr; treasurer, L. S. Martin; and fifth member, Harvey Bauman. The Executive Committee in its regular sessions which are now held quarterly cares for much of the detailed work of the Board. The Publishing Committee has as its special responsibility the reviewing of all proposed publications while they are still in manuscript form to ascertain whether they are suitable for publication as far as the soundness of their content is concerned. The Publishing House decides whether a given manuscript is likely to sell well enough to justify its publication. The present membership of the Publishing Committee is as follows: Paul Erb, chairman; J. C. Wenger, secretary; H. A. Diener, John E. Lapp, J. L. Stauffer.

The aim of Mennonite Publication Board is to publish and distribute Christian literature, books, magazines, Sunday-school materials, tracts, Christian educational literature, etc., through the maintenance of a publishing house and bookstores. God has marvelously blessed in many ways the Board, the House, and the bookstores. A brief review of some recent events will help us to appreciate some of these blessings.

For a long time the House was seriously handicapped for space. The Board was aware of the need of an enlarged building and authorized its construction in the 1944 Board meeting. Limitations caused by war, however, prevented the Board from moving forward until 1948 when the new annex was begun. During 1949 the new annex with its excellent facilities was completed at a cost of about $250,000. Donations from our congregations supplied over $67,000 of this amount; life subscriptions to our periodicals brought in over $13,000; annuities supplied almost $19,000; and the Board had available cash reserves of $40,000, leaving something over $100,000 to be borrowed. The expenditure of a quarter million dollars seems like a large sum of money, but when one measures such an outlay of money for the extension of Christ's kingdom, and measures it in the light of the Great Commission and the judgment seat of Christ, the figure dwindles sharply. The building of this badly needed annex was the answer to much prayer and much planning. It is the third major step since the erection in 1905 of the first frame building on the east corner of the present "House block." In 1907 the first brick building was erected. In 1921-22 the large tile structure was built. And now we have the new brick annex of 1948-49. These four buildings are monuments to God's blessing on the work.

The year 1949 also found the Publishing House in the midst of a large expenditure for machinery and equipment. It has been found necessary to spend $120,000 for machinery over a three-year period. The problem of inflation is a factor here as elsewhere. What used to cost one dollar now costs two, making replacement an expensive item.

The expansion of the work of the House has been enormous. Compare the following round figures for the beginning and end of our decade:

	1939	1949
Book sales	$73,000	$408,000
Book inventory	57,000	292,000
Net solvency, House and Board	370,000	664,000
Net gain for year	21,000	90,000
Machinery inventory	45,000	109,000
"Gospel Herald" subscribers	12,000	18,000
"Y.C.C." subscribers	18,000	30,000
"Way" subscribers	45,000	200,000

Much of the expanded service of the House and the progress made cannot be reflected in tables and figures, however. There exists today an excellent co-operation between the Board, the House, the Commission for Christian Education and Young People's Work, the Publishing Committee, the General Mission Board, the Board of Education, and Mennonite General Conference. In the area of printing the House serves the entire church. We have only one "Scottdale." The world outreach of the Mennonite Church today is unparalleled in our entire history as a brotherhood. The Publication Board and Publishing House are serving that brotherhood in this era of glorious opportunity to make Christ known to the ends of the earth. Please pray for the work.

Recent publications of the House include the following: S. C. Yoder, Poetry of the Old Testament; Mack and Eshleman, Christian Manhood; J. L. Stauffer, Studies in Daniel; J. C. Wenger, The Doctrines of the Mennonites. Among the books recently reprinted are: Church and Sunday School Hymnal; Church Hymnal; Christian Nurture of Children, by Alta Mae Erb; Doctrines of the Bible, by Daniel Kauffman; Junior Hymns; Songs of Cheer; and Glimpses of Mennonite History and Doctrine, by J. C. Wenger.

The year 1950 promises to be a great year of production at Scottdale, the Lord willing. In October the new Sunday-school materials will be issued. Watch your church papers for more detailed announcements. The English Martyrs' Mirror, perhaps the most significant book in Mennonite history, will appear shortly, equipped with a brand new set of indexes prepared by Ira D. Landis. Menno Simons' Complete Works will also be published soon, in a fresh English translation made by an excellent Dutch scholar from Michigan, Leonard Verduin, Harold S. Bender will write introductions to Menno's several books. Work on the forthcoming Mennonite Encyclopedia, three volumes, edited by H. S. Bender and his associates, is also proceeding, although it will not appear in 1950.

Three fine books were recently printed at Scottdale, although not published by the House: Melvin Gingerich, Service for Peace, a comprehensive history of Civilian Public Service; Robert Friedmann, Mennonite Piety through the Centuries, a survey of the changes in Mennonite life and theology since 1525; and Harold S. Bender's Conrad Grebel, the long-awaited biography of the founder of the Mennonite Church. These are books for every Mennonite home, church library, and public library.

The Mennonite Publication Board enters 1950 with the prayer that God may use the Board, the House, and bookstores for His glory until Jesus comes.

Mennonite Commission for Christian Education

By Chester K. Lehman, Vice-Chairman

The year 1949 was a busy one for the Commission in its widening and deepening interests. It has been seeking faithfully to serve the church in the tasks assigned to it by General Conference. The spring and fall meetings were held at Scottdale, Pennsylvania, and Orrville, Ohio, respectively.

The personnel of the Commission is undergoing a gradual turnover in membership which should make for continued efficiency as a working body. Of the original membership elected in 1937, six were serving in 1944 and four at the close of 1949. The second chairman is serving and the third field secretary is now beginning his work. Of the original divisional secretaries, three were serving in 1944 and one at the close of 1949. Worthy of special mention is the long period of faithful service rendered by Brother J. R. Shank whose membership on the Commission terminated this year. He was a charter member of the Young People's Bible Meeting Topics Committee and of the Commission. For a number of years the writer had the privilege of laboring with him in church organizations and found his fellowship enriching and his counsels wise and constructive.

Mennonite Youth Fellowship

This new organization under the sponsorship of the Commission was off to a good start with the convening of the first church-wide meeting of the Fellowship at Hesston, Kansas, in connection with the 1949 annual meeting of the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. The holding of these two meetings in close conjunction was most opportune. It gave the youth of the church a sense of the serious implications of their organization in that its meeting was associated with that of an organization having to do with the missionary endeavor of the church. On the other hand the Mission Board became conscious of the heart throbs of energetic youth who are taking the matter of Christian service seriously.

Integrating Efforts for Improvement of Church Music

A recommendation from the Music Committee regarding the creating of the office of Secretary of Music was received. This committee expressed the feeling that the music interests of the church could best be served if there was an integration of effort between the Music Committee and the Commission. Action was taken approving this recommendation. Later John P. Duerksen, a member of the Music Committee, was elected to this secretaryship. The Music Committee now has a channel for promotion of the interests of church music.

Christian Workers' Training

An important addition to the Christian Workers' Training program was made by the introduction of a one-unit course entitled The Doctrines of the Mennonites, by John C. Wenger. The promotion of study classes throughout the church, using this text, was the final step in implementing the 1949 major emphasis of Adult Indoctrination.

Teaching Materials for Other Groups

For years other church groups have been using teaching materials produced by the Mennonite Church. Question has arisen whether or not at any stage in the production of these materials it would be proper to counsel with representatives of these groups with a view to rendering them better service. This matter was studied first by the Curriculum Committee and then by the Commission. A carefully worded Statement of Policy was drawn up pertaining to inviting interested persons in connection with the planning of Christian education materials. It provides: (1) for the Curriculm Committee's responsibility of planning the blueprints of Mennonite curriculums with a view to meeting the needs of our own constituency; (2) for inviting representatives of other groups for purposes of counsel and for arranging for necessary adaptations to meet their ideals and needs; (3) for maintaining our own doctrinal emphases in all materials to be used by our own constituency.

Major Emphasis and Slogan for 1950

"Vitalizing Our Teaching" was chosen for the main emphasis and as a slogan, "They shall be all taught of God."

Meeting Some Publication Needs

Looking to supplying the need for the publication of a devotional quarterly for promoting and strengthening family worship, action was taken providing for the publication of a quarterly under the direction of the Curriculm Committee. Recognizing the need for the preparation of a booklet on the Mennonite Church written in a style that would appeal to young people of the church, the Curriculum Committee was given the responsibility for supplying this need.

New Stimuli for Mission Study Classes

With the opening of mission work in Japan, definite need exists for familiarizing ourselves with this new field. The Secretary of Missionary Education was given approval and encouragement for the preparation of a kit on Japan for use in mission study classes. In order that the philosophy of Mennonite missionary eudeavor be thought through, the Secretary of Missionary Education was given similar green light in the production of a twelve-lesson course setting forth the principles and aims of missionary education.

The Field Secretary

Acting on the principle that one should not carry two major responsibilities in the church, Nelson E. Kauffman did not permit his name to be considered for re-election as Field Secretary. While the Commission was reluctant to yield to Brother Kauffman's request, it accepted his decision as the leading of the Lord and proceeded to choose his successor. Negotiations are now completed in securing Roy S. Koch as Brother Kauffman's successor. During the past three years Brother Kauffman brought to the office of Field Secretary efficiency, wisdom, Christian statesmanship, and genuine consecration to the furtherance of the cause of Christ through the teaching agencies of the church. We wish him God's richest blessing as he continues to serve in the enlarging responsibilities of the presidency of the Mennonite Board of Education. In Brother Koch we find a younger brother with a vision of the teaching responsibility of the church and a zeal to fulfill it. His experience as a pastor and evangelist, as teacher in a winter Bible school, and as Secretary of Young People's Bible Meetings fits him admirably for this responsibility.

Home Counseling Service

The need for a home counseling service was given careful study. Those beginning to assume the responsibilities of home building and parents are seeking for safe and competent counsel. Action was taken placing responsibility upon the Field Secretary and Secretary of Home Interests of bringing this need to the attention of district conferences.

Financial Matters

Recognizing the value of the service which the Mennonite Research Foundation is rendering the Commission, decision was made to contribute $100.00 annually to this organization.

The Commission gave consideration to the matter of building up a reserve fund for emergency use. Action was taken to suggest the amount of ten cents per member for the annual solicitation from Sunday schools for the Commission.

Sunday School Interests

The Secretary of Sunday Schools presented proposed Sunday-school class record books and offering envelopes which are adapted to the needs of teachers and secretaries of Mennonite Sunday schools. The recommendation was approved.

A progress report in the preparation of a new Superintendent's Kit was received and approved. It will contain certain graphs for attendance records, suggestions for teacher and staff meetings, list of supplies, record sheets, Sunday-school diagnosis blanks, teacher-training literature, library folders, enrollment and canvassing cards, Commission materials, tracts, and Mennonite Publishing House sales literature.

A circular on promotion of church and Sunday-school libraries has been prepared and distributed to local and district Sunday-school leaders.

Herald Uniform Sunday-School Materials

Possibly the most significant work of the Commission during the past year has been the perfecting of the plans for the revised Uniform Sunday-school lesson materials, the details of which have already been publicized. The planning for these materials was the work of the Curriculum Committee covering a number of years. The present revisions have developed out of the conviction that the teaching materials of the Sunday school must be developed and improved along with those of other teaching agencies. It is believed that we have in some measure arrived at a definite goal in supplying properly graded materials and teachers' helps for all areas of the Sunday school.

The Young People's Bible Meeting

The Secretary of Young People's Bible Meetings has been carrying on a study by questionnaire and otherwise of the Y.P.B.M. He developed an outline and taught a course on the Y.P.B.M. at the Ontario Mennonite Bible School. These studies should lead to some practical results in improving this meeting.

Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities

By H. Raymond Charles, Vice-President

The Missionary Messenger is the official monthly publication of the Eastern Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities. Throughout the past year, Missionary Messenger editor, J. Lester Brubaker, endeavored to deepen the missionary spirit within the church with this slogan: YOU can go into all the world. Each month there appeared a feature article in which the following points were emphasized as goals. A missionary offering every Sunday in every Sunday School; a mission study class in every congregation; a mission outpost in every congregation; and the Missionary Messenger in every home.

Home Missions

One home mission, Marietta, took its place in Lancaster Conference as an established congregation. A mission Sunday school was opened and is now being conducted at 1127 Fox Street in the Bronx, New York City. Richard Kling has located a new mission in the Atmore, Alabama, Community. Another mission Sunday school was opened at Bair's Station in York County. This school is the outgrowth of a summer Bible school conducted in a closed church building. With one station taking congregational status and with three additional points, this board now is responsible for 44 home missions as compared with 42 a year ago. Some families from our thickly populated Mennonite communities are moving into our home mission areas to help as part-time, self-supporting workers. Of special note are those who are moving into York County, Pennsylvania, and Escambia County, Alabama. Five stations have received the gift of a pastor who has been ordained from among the workers in each case. At the Ybor City Spanish Mission in Tampa, Florida, Samuel Z. Strong was ordained as the first full-time pastor for that work among the Spanish-speaking people. Edgar Denlinger, who served several years as summer Bible school superintendent in the Brewton, Alabama, area, was ordained to serve as pastor of the Appleton, Alabama, mission. Daniel Leaman was called to assist in the work at Andrews Bridge and Luke A. Hurst for the work at Seventh Street in Reading. These two last-named places are for Negroes. At Manchester, Joseph Martin was ordained as a pastor to locate in that area. One mission superintendent and pastor, Harry E. Shreiner was called from time into eternity. Brother Shreiner also served as an active member of this board. A basement church was completed during the year for the work at Oxford Village, a suburb of Philadelphia. The Wallace Highway work in Alabama moved from a garage into a new building constructed with the help of a builders' unit under this board's voluntary service program. Several special projects were undertaken in order to advance our home mission program. Irvin Horst conducted a special survey of New York City for our board. The fifteen-page report which was the result of this study will guide us in more firmly establishing our witness there. Special attention is being given to the need of the Negroes to whom we are witnessing. Present plans call for an enlarged program among this needy race. We have six stations that have a membership which includes folks of this race. The Jewish Committee continues to be active. In addition to promoting a monthly fellowship meeting this committee circulates a monthly prayer letter. About a dozen persons are engaged in part-time service witnessing to Jews in our eastern cities including Lancaster, Reading, Philadelphia, and New York City.

Foreign Missions

At this writing there are thirty-one missionaries on the field in the Tanganyika Mission. Only one of the Tanganyika missionaries is at home on furlough. Six furloughed missionaries returned to the field, one for his third term of service. One new missionary nurse, Elva Landis, was sent as were also three short-term workers. Sam Troyer was sent as a builder mechanic, Naomi Smoker to serve as bookkeeper for the mission, and Esther Freed as teacher for the missionary children. Two new couples have been sent to Ethiopia to assist Daniel Sensenigs in establishing the work there: the Chester Wenger family to develop the educational work and the Dr. Walter Schlabach family to serve as medical missionaries. Sister Schlabach is a registered nurse. Mary Byer is being transferred from the Mennonite Relief unit at Nazareth to serve in our mission there. This brings the personnel of this new African mission in Ethiopia to seven. Orie O. Miller, secretary of this Board, and Amos Horst, secretary of Lancaster Conference, are now visiting these two African missions as delegates. At present the George Miller family is at Colombia, South America, language school in preparation to open a mission among the Spanish-speaking Carib people on the north coast of Honduras, Central America. This Board has authorized the sending of a second couple to this field when such suitable persons can be found. Never in the history of our board were there as many new and furloughed missionaries who were sent out within one year as during 1949.

Itinerant Evangelism

The Intinerant Evangelism Committee which is associated with this Board sponsors itinerant work. In 1949 there was a total of twenty-seven Bible schools under its direction. About fifty different persons served in these schools. The work centered in southern Alabama with schools in York County and Tioga County, Pennsylvania. In addition this committee sponsored a survey of the state of Georgia which was undertaken by C. Z. Martin and wife. Alvin Weavers spent some time doing itinerant work among Negroes in northern Florida.

Voluntary Service

The Eastern Board's Voluntary Service program got into gear for operation this year. One service team served the Tampa missions and two different builders' units served the Alabama missions. In addition to these three units there was considerable work accomplished near at hand in shorter term projects such as painting, paperhanging, and general maintenance of mission property. This organization helped in securing some of the fifty teachers who served under the Itinerant Evangelism Committee in its summer Bible school work.

Concluding Remarks

The third Missionary Training Institute was held again at the Norris Square Mission in Philadelphia. Most of those workers now being placed in our home stations are folks who have attended this institute at some time. Expenditures for the year have reached an all-time high due largely to the heavy travel expense of new and returning foreign missionaries. Mission receipts have dropped considerably. As in other boards so also this Board's program is expanding both at home and abroad. Plans are being developed to inform our brotherhood in a more systematic way of this enlarging program and we are confident that He that hath begun a good work will perform it even until the day of Christ's coming. Every Congregation a Missionary Center is our slogan for 1950.

Mennonite Central Committee

By Ernest W. Lehman, Publicity Director

During 1949 the M.C.C. program of relief and service has continued to meet much need "In the Name of Christ," although with some restriction in the resources available. In some areas the reduction of activity was occasioned by decreasing need; in other places conditions of continuing or even increasing need served as an ever-present challenge.

A few significant developments of the year were: the admission of the first patients at Brook Lane Farm; the ground breaking for construction of a mental hospital, Kings View Homes, in California; the Voluntary Service Training program continuing through the year; the opening of a relief center in Berlin; the closing of relief work in Poland; the interruption of work in China by the Civil War; the stream of refugee migration to Canada, and the increase in migration to the United States; the I.R.O. eligibility problem; the struggle of the Mennonite colonies in becoming established in Paraguay and Uruguay; the work of the Peace Section summer team in Europe.

I. Relief Section

The trend toward the rehabilitation type of relief was even more evident this year than previously. A number of community centers served primarily in providing self-help facilities and opportunity to people, and also as a means of radiating the Christian way of life. This year is also characterized by continuing material needs in various areas abroad, and by continued liberal contributions by the churches to help alleviate this need.

As of January 1 there were 153 M.C.C. relief workers serving in 18 foreign countries. The total a year ago was 217, making a net decrease of 64.

Direct and indirect expenditures for relief during the year amounted to $570,249.33.

A. The Far East

The M.C.C. unit at Osaka was opened after the first workers arrived early in the year, and a prefabricated building was erected soon afterward. Developing services there include religious, language, and handcraft instruction, sewing room, library, and other facilities. The work has met with very favorable reaction by the people.

In China the relief program encountered further interference by the military forces. The projects at Tsingtao and Chinkiang were discontinued. The orphanage at Hengyang with its 200 orphans was evacuated to a rural location and after a time of trials and uncertainty, was again brought back to the former location. In Shanghai itself the center was cut off from the several units and activity was reduced to a minimum; but later a project of vocational and character training for teen-age boys and girls from slum areas was opened. Only on the island of Formosa has the work continued without direct interference. Here the workers assisted in a medical survey among the aborigines people in the mountain areas. This work has been somewhat difficult because of the ignorance of sanitation and health measures among these people. The work in China as a whole has been very difficult and frustrating during this year, because, in spite of the increasing and urgent need, the political conditions have made relief work impossible.

In India the acute needs occasioned by the formation of Hindustan and Pakistan become generally alleviated making it possible to extend relief to Kashmir and other isolated areas. Later in the year the unit was closed, except for two workers who continued serving with another Christian agency, Technical Services Association, in work among refugees.

The medical program in the Philippines continued to serve a good purpose. It is hoped that plans can be worked out for a mission program to assume this project in due time after the more direct relief needs subside.

Work in Sumatra was brought to conclusion when the field in Java opened. Here at the place of the oldest Mennonite Mission field, it has been possible to render a particularly valuable relief service. Having suffered many hardships and privations during the war, these people are very much in need of material relief as well as spiritual fellowship and encouragement.

B. The Middle East

The M.C.C. hospital at Nazareth under M.R.C. direction has continued to help people in the immediate vicinity as well as in the more remote areas. In addition five teachers have been assigned to schools in Addis Ababa.

One M.C.C. worker in Palestine has been serving under the American Friends Service Committee in relief to the Arab and Jewish refugees at Gaza, chiefly in the form of medical work. Later in the year plans were developed for the opening in early 1950 of an M.C.C. relief project in Palestine, to consist of food and clothing distributions among the Arab Palestine refugees now in Syria.

C. Europe

The agricultural rehabilitation and clothing distribution program in Poland continued until early spring of 1949 when certain governmental restrictions made it necessary to close the unit and use the workers and resources elsewhere.

In Austria the relief work continued in a fashion similar to previous years, with material aid help to needy individuals as recommended by local officials. Later in the year the unit developed an additional community center emphasis after a house in Vienna became available for use by the unit.

A children's colony program in Naples has been the chief activity in Italy. Groups of needy children from Naples' slum areas are given food, clothing, and character training as they attend the M.C.C. center over a period of three months. Waldensian young people give valuable assistance to this program on a voluntary basis.

Our workers in France are engaged in children's colony work at Nancy where older children are cared for, and at Weiler, for younger children. These Christian homes are unique in their service to children in France. French Mennonites have been very helpful in the operation of this program.

The office in Amsterdam, Holland, has continued in its liaisonship with Dutch Mennonites and also in its service to relief workers arriving or departing from Europe. Basel, Switzerland, serves as the central office of the total European area.

In Belgium a small relief project under the direction of the M.R.C. has continued during the year, chiefly among refugees concentrated in mining areas.

Germany has been the country of most extensive M.C.C. relief operations during the year. Although rehabilitation projects have been increasing in emphasis, the material aid aspect of relief has been substantial. In fact, the workers have insisted that every contribution of food, clothing, shoes, and other commodities can be effectively used in alleviating genuine human need. In line with this, projects have continued in distributions to needy widows, students, the aged, convalescents, war prisoners, and others. A very significant factor in the continuing need for relief is the large number of refugees that are still located in Germany, without having had a chance to become self-sufficient economically. The scarcity of housing, employment, clothing, food is considerably aggravated by this problem. The relief work has not only helped to supply the immediate material needs of these people, but has also expressed to them a Christian concern that gives to them a new hope and faith in the midst of discouragement and despair. To give help to non-Mennonite refugees in a direct way, a team of four M.C.C. workers has been organized to serve in I.R.O. camps in a counselling service among the refugees. Another significant relief impact has been made through the community centers at Heilbronn, Berlin, Neustadt, and Kaiserslautern. Here the emphasis is on helping people to help themselves. Women use sewing rooms to do mending for themselves and others. Shoes are repaired at nominal cost. Warming rooms and reading rooms are maintained. Likewise there are suitable rooms for religious services and committee meetings. In all these contacts with people, "In the Name of Christ," is the keynote to express the motivation and purpose in providing the services. Near the end of the year the children's home at Bad Duerkheim was opened and promises to serve a very significant purpose in the total German relief program.

D. Latin America

Services in Puerto Rico continued in much the same way as in previous years. The hospital, laboratory, and clinics are central in the program, with needlework among women, public health and community improvement, and agricultural experimentation also stressed. The M.C.C. program was operated during the latter part of the year in view of the anticipated transfer to the Mennonite Board of Missions and Charities on January 1, 1950.

The M.C.C. had several workers in Brazil serving in a spiritual ministry among the Mennonites there. One endeavor has been the development of a center to provide fellowship for the scattered Mennonite young people in the Sao Paulo area.

In Uruguay, the newest homeland of Mennonite settlers, the effort has been centered in consummating the land purchase to enable more permanent settlement of the immigrants. In the meantime some relief in the form of maintenance has been provided.

For the Mennonite colonies in Paraguay, this year has been one of struggle for establishing homes, clearing forest, and developing a more prosperous economy. An appeal for agricultural implements for the Paraguayan colonies had very good response from the North American brotherhood. During the year substantial amounts of these implements and other agricultural and industrial equipment were sent. The M.C.C. experimental farm continues to test and develop new varieties of crops to find the varieties most nearly adapted to the soil and growing conditions. Methods of disease and pest control are also developed.

E. Material Aid Program

Contributions of the more concentrated relief gifts such as meat, flour, dried fruits, shoes, clothing, soap, etc., have been encouraged. Relief canners operated in several areas of the constituency in canning meat for relief. Special children's projects included Shoes & Stockings for Europe's Children and also Christmas Bundles. M.C.C. food and clothing centers continued to be points of activity as materials were gathered, processed, and shipped. The accompanying chart indicates the evaluation of relief materials sent to the various countries.

II. Mennonite Aid Section

The year 1949 has seen significant progress in the solution of the Mennonite refugee resettlement problem. The Russian and Danzig Mennonite refugees that were assisted to South America earlier remained to be assisted in becoming settled and established. The emphasis in M.C.C. work in South America this year has been directed to this objective. In general the crops in Paraguay have not been good, thus extending the period when maintenance assistance was needed by the immigrants. A gifts-in-kind program designed to supply needed agricultural implements and equipment was supported very heartily in North America—so much so in fact that the program had to be terminated. In the months following, those items most urgently needed were sent as funds were available. As in previous years, help was given to the Paraguayan colonies in the area of schools, hospitals, industry, and agriculture, etc. A number of persons who desired to move from Paraguay to Canada, and who were eligible for such movements, were assisted in making arrangements.

In Uruguay the 751 immigrants have continued in the Arapey camp while efforts have been made to complete the transaction making the El Ombu land tract available as a more permanent settlement. As the year closed it was hoped that this can be completed in the near future. Assistance has been given here in the form of maintenance and also in the acquisition of agricultural equipment.

There were no group migrations to South America in 1949. However, an increasing stream of migration to the United States became possible, and Canada continued to hold open its doors for many of our refugee brethren, particularly close relatives, agriculturalists, and a few other classes. Under the U.S. D.P. Act of 1948, 61 Mennonite D.P.'s from Europe entered during the first 7½ months of the year; while during the same period over 900 came to Canada. In Canada the Canadian Mennonite Board of Colonization carried the responsibility of resettlement of the people, while in the U.S. the Aid Section personnel in liaison with the sponsors and local committees, arranged for the reception of the D.P.'s. In all these cases, the European M.C.C. staff supervised the processing of each immigrant, chiefly at Camp Gronau, a Mennonite camp recognized by the I.R.O. as a Processing Center.

In sharp contrast to the encouraging developments during much of the year, was the period of several months following July 23 when the I.R.O. Eligibility problem caused a delay in all migration. The German naturalization which some of the Russian Mennonites had earlier received under duress was pointed out in disqualifying them for I.R.O. assistance in migration. Only after the evidence was reviewed and reconsidered was the decision reversed and migration again resumed.

The Mennonite Aid Section again co-operated with the Council of Mennonite and Affiliated Colleges in making arrangement for the coming of Mennonite foreign students from Germany, Holland, and other European countries.

Cash contributions for Aid Section purposes during the year amounted to $371,837.38, with $143,895.00 additional made available in the form of loans.

III. Peace Section

The limited activity in the U.S. draft law has given opportunity to develop further in a more natural atmosphere, the peace teaching program at home and abroad. Only during January and February were calls made for draft quotas.

Throughout much of the year, however, there was some activity in classification of registrants by Selective Service. The office of the National Service Board For Religious Objectors has continued to be supported by the M.C.C. and other church groups as a source of information on legislative developments.

A team of three men, Harold S. Bender, Erland Waltner, and C. J. Rempel spent the summer months from June to August in Peace Section work in Europe. Their activity consisted of participation in various conferences and meetings, and other contacts with the European churches and church leaders. One notable meeting was the nonresistance conference at Thomashof, Germany, on July 17 and 18. Also working in Europe during the major part of the year has been Guy F. Hershberger whose assignment and interest is that of studying the C.O. provisions in the various European countries.

Peace education efforts at home included the work of two M.C.C. summer peace teams—one in the Minnesota-South Dakota area and one on the West Coast. These teams of three men each spent about eight weeks in travelling among the churches, helping to promote a more careful study of the nonresistant position. Reactions from this work have been very encouraging.

A liaisonship with the peace societies and groups of Mennonite colleges has also been encouraged, one joint activity being the inter-college peace meeting called by the Peace Section at the request of the college groups.

During the year attention has been given to the activity of other peace groups in the U.S. and Canada, with participation on an observer or consultative basis in some cases.

No publications were issued by the Peace Section during the year, except for the reprint of the booklet, What of Noncombatant Service? by Gingerich.

Contributions from the churches toward the expense of this Peace Section work totaled $18,056.70.

IV. Voluntary Service

The exploration in new types of service projects continued this year as a central concern.

Summer projects added included institutions and camps for needy children, work among migrants, students-in-industry. Other projects included mental hospital service, community welfare services, educational work, Bible school, etc. In the summer program 333 young people participated.

In longer-term projects, new openings were the training school for delinquent young men, as well as the children's institution in which a summer unit had served. Also new in 1949 were foreign service openings in Espelkamp, Germany, and in Paraguay with the organization S.T.I.C.A.

One unique feature this year was the one-month orientation classes for volunteers of one-year or longer terms, which had just begun in 1948 and continued through 1949 with five groups of 8 to 13 members each. The year has seen a decreasing number of one-year volunteers, which may reflect the decreased activity of the draft.

Another significant development this year has been the unit opening at Topeka State Hospital, where the unit members have been able both to contribute to and share in the very active concern for improving the care and conditions in mental hospitals.

The longer term units at Gulfport, Miss., and Cuauhtemoc, Mexico, continued to carry on a service of alleviating human suffering and need "In the Name of Christ."

In addition to the summer service and longer-term work, there were a number of shorter term volunteers, giving possibly several weeks at a time to some M.C.C. cause such as relief warehouse work, attendant service at Brook Lane Farm, or assistance at other places.

The total cost of operating the M.C.C. Voluntary Service work for the year amounted to $68,125.02.

V. Mental Health Section

One of the more significant developments in the M.C.C. program in 1949 was the opening of Brook Lane Farm, the first of the M.C.C. mental hospitals to receive patients for treatment. This hospital, located near Leitersburg, Md., served nearly 100 patients in this first year having an average census of 6 to 8 during the early months and 12 to 15 later in the year. During this early period the majority of patients have been non-Mennonites. A staff of 13 persons including two registered nurses, carry on the work. Dr. Prager continues to be the psychiatrist for the hospital.

The second M.C.C. mental hospital program was inaugurated when ground was broken on Nov. 20, 1949, to begin the building of Kings View Homes near Reedley, California.

The Mental Health Section has also been interested in promoting a better understanding of mental health and mental illness. An informational service to ex-C.P.S. men and others has been one aspect of this. The service of many Mennonite young people in institutional service units is also encouraged as an indirect but very effective informational channel.

Contributions for the Mental Health Section work in general were $3,757.10 and $4,867.50 additional for the West Coast hospital project.

Mennonite Aid, Inc.

By H. Ralph Hernley, Vice-President

Leaders of the Mennonite Church have been working for a number of years to organize a program that will be helpful to those in need during times of illness and death. In 1947 General Conference authorized Mennonite Mutual Aid to proceed to set up an organization to meet this need. In 1949 Mennonite Aid, Inc., was chartered in the state of Pennsylvania in accordance with the wishes of Mennonite General Conference.

The following statement presented to the Department of State of Pennsylvania in the application for a charter gives in a brief compass the purpose and meaning of Mennonite Aid, Inc.: "Its object shall be to establish an association under the control of the Mennonite Church for making possible the systematic sharing by the members of the said church, in a Christian way, the financial burdens of sickness, disability, and burial expenses and thereby perpetuate the historic Mennonite practice of mutual aid based on Biblical principles. Membership in said corporation and the benefits thereof shall be limited to members in good standing of the Mennonite Church."

Its program is divided into two parts:

First: (a) Hospital and Surgical Benefits covering charges of hospitals for sickroom, operating or delivery room, X ray, anesthesia, drugs, medications. (b) Surgeon's charges.

Second: Burial Aid Benefits in the amount of $500 for expenses of last illness and burial of a deceased member.

Members may apply for one or both of these benefits as they may choose. Their choice in this matter will be indicated on the application form.

The program of Mennonite Aid, Inc., is designed to take care of the whole family if a member so desires. If the husband and wife both become members of Mennonite Aid, Inc., all children up to eighteen years are included in the benefits to be received. The benefits of the hospital and surgical part of the program are the same for the children as for the parents without extra cost. The Burial Aid, however, is $100 per child in the event of death instead of the $500 benefit for each parent. In case one of the parents dies or a widowed person becomes a member of Mennonite Aid, Inc., the family benefits apply upon the payment of a single assessment. It is felt that this is a Scriptural Christian gesture in line with Christ's concern for widows and children.

It is planned that this new service be truly a service of Christian brotherhood. It can be that if a large number of brethren and sisters from all sections of the church will join as members. Advance inquiry indicates that such will be the case. Mennonite Aid, Inc., will be a clearinghouse through which you and I can reach a helping hand to each other in case of illness or death regardless of how far we live from each other. Brethren cannot be separated by time or space when it comes to mutual helpfulness. This is a historical Mennonite principle. The Mennonite Church has only lacked the organization in the past to do what she has always encouraged us to do for each other along these lines. Mennonite Aid, Inc., now becomes the link that binds us together in this service.

Mennonite Aid, Inc., is a church-wide organization. Article three of its Constitution and Bylaws reads as follows:

"Each of the district conferences eligible to be members of General Conference shall elect one member of the Board of Directors. The Board of Directors of Mennonite Mutual Aid, Inc., shall select three directors. Three directors shall be chosen by the members of the association at an annual meeting. In the event that a conference eligible to membership in General Conference makes no selection, then the Board of Directors shall be privileged to nominate a member who shall be appointed by the Board of Directors of Mennonite Mutual Aid, Inc., to represent such conference until such conference appoints a member of the Board to fill such position."

During the past year numerous meetings of the Board of Directors, committee members, and members of Mennonite Mutual Aid were held to decide on policy and procedure in this work. The organization began to function early this year (1950) and is looking to the church for co-operation in making this program a successful one and an honor and glory to God.

It is hoped that during the coming year Mennonite Aid, Inc., may grow and prosper so that the Mennonite Church can fulfill in an organized way our obligation to each other as stated by Paul in Galatians 6:2: "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ."

Andrew A. Schrock, 1863-1949

By H. R. Schertz

Bishop Andrew A Schrock, son of Andrew and Kathryn Kramer Schrock, was born in Alsace Lorraine, France, on October 28, 1863. At the age of six years he emigrated with his parents from France to this country, and settled in Linn Township, Illinois, where he spent the earlier part of his life.

He was baptized and received into the membership of the Roanoke Mennonite Church, near Eureka, Illinois, in the year 1878. On January 12, 1888, he was united in marriage to Barbara Bachman. After his marriage he moved to Metamora Township where he engaged in farming. On July 8, 1894, he was ordained to the office of minister at the Metamora Church. On April 24, 1898, he was ordained to the office of bishop, in which capacity he served the congregation for forty-three years. In his later years he retired from farming, and moved into the town of Metamora, where he resided until April 7, 1949, when he passed away at the age of 85 years, 5 months, and 9 days.

Brother Schrock was a peace-loving servant of the Lord. He was always willing to go the second mile in order to maintain peace and unity in the church. As a fellow minister he was considerate and kind hearted, always endeavoring to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace. It indeed was a real pleasure and inspiration to work with him from the beginning of my ministry until the close of his active service for God and the church.

He had a deep concern for the spiritual welfare of souls, and for the preservation of the doctrines of the Mennonite Church. In his preaching and teaching, he, like the Apostle Paul, ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears. His was not a dry-eyed ministry. When there was a departure from the faith on the part of the laity, his soul was disturbed and his heart saddened. He frequently remarked that he keenly felt his responsibility as the shepherd of the flock, as one that watched for their souls, and as one that will be called upon to give an account unto God.

He took his task as a minister seriously, and entered wholeheartedly into the preaching of the Word. At the time of his ordination to the ministry the transition was being made from preaching in the German language to the English. It was very apparent that he was a man that was called for such a time as this since he could speak fluently in both languages. His ability along this line made it possible to make the change gradually, and gracefully, without serious disruption.

During the fifty years of faithful service in the ministry of the church, he saw many changes take place; some that he deeply regretted, and interpreted as a departure from the faith, and a compromise with the world. Although he failed to see the wisdom of the change, he did not refuse to co-operate sympathetically with the conference and the church, but continued to preach the "unsearchable riches of Christ."

During the earlier part of his ministry, he was very active in the work of the church, serving a number of times as moderator of the Western A.M. Conference (of which the Illinois Conference was a member at the time), also serving on important committees of the conference and church at frequent intervals.

Many pleasant memories linger in the minds of some of the older members of the Lower Deer Creek congregation, near Kalona, Iowa, of the acceptable service Brother Schrock rendered to that congregation during the years that he served them in the capacity of bishop. The last days of his life were spent trusting God, waiting to be called to his eternal home.

Warren G. Bean, 1866-1949

By Quintus Leatherman

Warren G. Bean was bishop in the Skippack district of the Franconia Mennonite Conference for thirty-five years. He was born on February 7, 1866, the youngest of five children, the son of William Johnson and Mary Gottschalk Bean. His birthplace was the old Bean homestead southwest of Creamery in Montgomery County, Pennsylvania. The farm was located on the Skippack Creek midway between the Upper Skippack and Worcester meetinghouses. Here he lived for years.

As a boy he attended public school in Worcester Township. He had some interest in teaching and attended the spring terms of 1885 and 1886 at Ursinus College, Collegeville where he received a Provisional Teacher's Certificate. However, he never taught school. He finally decided on farming, and on the farm he remained until the farm was sold in 1930 when he, his wife, and two daughters, Sara and Mary, moved into the village of Creamery.

On June 4, 1887, he married Anna Williams Kolb, and in the same year both were baptized in the Skippack Creek as members of the Upper Skippack Mennonite Church. In this same stream Bishop Bean baptized (by pouring) many later applicants for baptism. As Bishop Bean later became actively interested in evangelistic work, he frequently referred to this custom of baptism following marriage and encouraged young people to come into the church at an early age.

Brother and Sister Bean were blest with six children, William, Elizabeth, Warren, Sara, Mary, and Martha. All six children are living at this date (1949).

It was during this period in the 1880's and 1890's that Sunday schools were first coming into the church. Many difficulties and much opposition beset the efforts of those who had a vision of the need of more Bible study. Brother Bean was one of the early promoters for Sunday school at his home church. He saw in it an opportunity to teach the young people the Bible in the language of the public school. The Skippack community was rapidly becoming English-speaking while all the preaching and singing in the worship services at Skippack Church were in the German language. After many unsuccessful efforts, Sunday school was finally begun in 1897, and Brother Bean was assigned as a teacher in this first Sunday school. While there were some German classes Brother Bean taught an English class.

However, he soon had to give up his active participation in Sunday-school work. In the same year on June 15, 1897, he was called to the ministry by lot and ordained. He was the first English minister at Skippack. This fact no doubt gave greater support to the introduction of Sunday schools in the other congregations of the Skippack district. Because of the intense opposition to English preaching by another Skippack minister, this ordination was delayed over a year after the death of the minister he succeeded. Furthermore, after the death of Bishop John B. Hunsberry, who died in 1898, no bishop was ordained for the Skippack district until 1909 when Brother Bean was ordained as the first English bishop. Because of Brother Bean's ability in speaking English, he was frequently called to officiate in services outside of Mennonite circles. With no Sunday school for so long a time and no resident bishop for over ten years, the Skippack district suffered serious losses to other churches.

Ordination to the ministry at Skippack meant serving as a minister in a circuit of three churches, Skippack, Providence, and Worcester. In the 1890's this made necessary driving many miles by horse and buggy to the two churches at Providence and Worcester. On one Sunday all four ministers were present at Skippack. The following Sunday two ministers served at Worcester and two at Providence. The third Sunday all four ministers again were present at Skippack. On the fourth Sunday the two groups of ministers alternated from the previous two weeks at Providence and Worcester. In the early days, these trips were shared with Bishop John Hunsberry, Preacher Henry Wismer, and still later Preacher Howard Pennapacker. Brother Bean often expressed his appreciation of counsels and conversations that were enjoyed together on these circuit trips of slow travel. In the last eighteen years of his work as bishop, he was accompanied by his co-laboring minister Jacob T. Landes, by automobile.

Brother Landes comments thus: "Bro. Bean's efforts were untiring and always on time in his desire to attend each and every service."

In all the years of his active ministry he missed but one service. As duties increased in pastoral work and bishop responsibilities grew larger, material things became less important to him. He gave up attendance at market when he found it interfered with his church work. His daughter Sara comments on his deep concern for the pastoral oversight of the three churches. "In looking through father's old diaries we as children are amused at the fact that the births and weddings of his children find small recognition, but all church activities, the ministers, their texts, the visitors from various churches fill the pages."

On November 16, 1909, Brother Bean was ordained bishop of the Skippack district at the Upper Skippack Church. The congregations included in the district were: Skippack, Vincent, and Coventry (Chester County), Bally (Berks County), Providence, and Worcester. Later Norristown Mennonite Mission organized as a congregation in 1936, Pottstown Mennonite Mission begun in 1930 and Bridgeport Mission (1945) were also added to Brother Bean's bishop district.

Brother Bean served as a supply minister in the early days of the Philadelphia Mission. He often referred to an incident which occurred at this mission. Following one of his services a little girl came to him and requested baptism. At the time he thought that the child was too young to receive baptism, but upon later reflection he considered this a lost opportunity. These early contacts with mission work helped to give him an open mind on the new activities connected with evangelism. Although as a bishop he was regarded as being strict in the application of discipline, the lack of growth and actual losses on membership in the congregations of the Skippack district can in some measure be attributed to the unfortunate German language controversy of a previous generation. It is the repeated story of a minor issue being permitted to stifle the Christian life and activity of the church.

During his active life as bishop he officiated in all the communion services in his six to eight congregations. He conducted over 500 funeral services. With his increasing age the burden of bishop duties became heavier and the responsibilities connected with the mission congregations became larger. He reqested an assistant bishop and in June, 1944, with the assistance of other bishops he ordained Amos Kolb. His last ordination was that of Paul M. Lederach to the ministry in August, 1944.

On November 9, 1944, his life companion passed to her heavenly reward. His wife's many ministrations and encouragement were now gone. Perhaps the combination of this trying experience and the heavy responsibilities of his work brought about an almost complete loss of his hearing. This incapacitated him completely except in his fellowship with God, as he said.

On September 21, 1949, Bro. Bean answered the heavenly summons and departed this life for his eternal abode. His death came just ten days after his last service at the Providence Church.

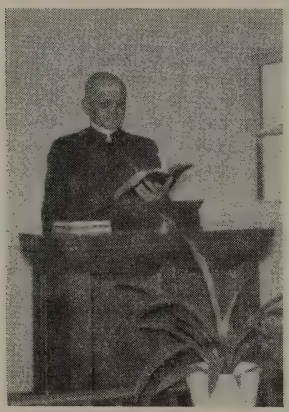
For a long time as senior bishop, Brother Bean acted as moderator of the Franconia Conference. His span of life was one that witnessed many forward steps in the activities of the conference. It began with the day when there were no Sunday schools and no home nor foreign missions supported by the conference. It ended with the church emerging from this complete indifference to a more active interest in evangelism at home and abroad.

A word must be added about Brother Bean's interest in preserving records pertaining to church events. He had a keen appreciation of the history of the Skippack Church which is the second oldest Mennonite congregation in America. He was careful to preserve the old Christopher Sauer Bible of 1776 which belonged to the Skippack congregation. This Bible has the signature of Dielman Kolb, one of the early ministers of Skippack.

His library included over sixty separate titles on Mennonite publications and Mennonite historical works, many of which are German. But the most valuable part of his collection is a series of diaries he faithfully kept over the entire period of his service as minister and bishop. These diaries include details of ordinations in his time as well as a record of baptisms, marriages, and communion services. This work of Brother Bean will be deeply appreciated by those who are searching for firsthand source material on this period of time in our history.

John P. Bontrager, 1872-1949

By Claud M. Hostetler



On a clear spring day in sunny California, Bishop John P. Bontrager quietly passed from the scenes of this life to be at home with the Lord. His new home which he built himself and had the privilege of living in for only one month was located in the small town of Atwater, California. In his passing, the two Pacific Coast conferences lost the most active bishop of their history, but the great loss to the church is his eternal gain and great reward. He filled a place of tremendous importance for over two-score years in the Mennonite Church west of the Rockies, having come into this vast new country, as a young man, at the turn of the century.

John P. Bontrager was born in Colfax, Fairfield County, Ohio, February 1, 1872, and died June 8, 1949. His ancestors came to this country on September 9, 1749, from Europe, and settled first in Pennsylvania. His father's name was John J. Bontrager and his mother's name was Martha King Bontrager. At the age of nine years his parents moved to Logan County, Ohio, near Bellefontaine. While living in this community, at the age of twelve, God first spoke to him. This call never left him. Seven years later, at the age of nineteen, he yielded his life completely to God. He was baptized and received into the fellowship of the Mennonite Church, August 18, 1889. He was a charter member of the Bethel Church, West Liberty, Ohio, and served as superintendent of the Sunday school for a number of years.

On September 13, 1896, he married Amanda Hilty of Bluffton, Ohio. This union was blessed with seven children, one son and six daughters. The six daughters survive him, but the son drowned while the family was living at Albany, Oregon.

In 1900 he and his family crossed the continential divide, arriving at Nampa, Idaho, on December 8. Two weeks after his arrival he was chosen Sunday-school superintendent at the Antioch Church. After laboring at Nampa for four and one-half years in this capacity, he was called to Albany, Oregon, to help organize a Sunday school and labor with them as an exhorter. His first message of exhortation was given sometime in June, 1903, at Nampa.

On October 5, 1905, he was ordained to the ministry by Tillman M. Erb of Newton, Kansas, to serve the group at Albany, Oregon. He was chosen by the unanimous voice of the congregation. Six years later, almost to the day, on October 15, 1911, he was again chosen by the unanimous vote of the congregation to serve in the office of bishop. He was ordained bishop by Bishop D. Hilty and J. D. Mishler. His first and last sermons were preached at Albany, Oregon.

In 1906, a congregation was organized at Albany, Oregon, with Brother Bontrager as pastor. He served the Albany congregation as pastor for fifteen years. Besides helping to organize the Albany congregation, he helped to organize the Los Angeles and Winton congregations in California and also to reorganize the Upland, California, congregation. He had charge of the erection of new church buildings, and did much of the work himself, as he was a carpenter by trade. He was at Filer, Idaho, from early spring 1918 until late fall 1919 and built the church at that place. He also built the Los Angeles Church in 1920 and the Winton Church in 1935. In 1919 the Pacific Coast District Mission Board asked Brother Bontrager to move to Los Angeles, California, and take charge of the work at that place. He accepted this request, arriving there on November 7, 1919. While living in Los Angeles he labored faithfully, going as far as 200 miles to visit many of the scattered members in Southern California. Often he went to Terra Bella, a distance of over 160 miles, for Sunday services, taking some of the young people with him. While here he also carried on an extensive missionary program, such as holding meetings on a Sunday afternoon on the boardwalk along the beach. In 1931, the District Mission Board again asked him to move to a new location, this time to Winton, California. He labored faithfully in the congregation here, as well as all along the Pacific coast, till his Maker called him home.

In 1905, the Pacific Coast Conference was organized and in 1948, the South Pacific Mennonite Conference. He was largely responsible for both of these, and he was the first moderator of both conference districts. In the latter conference he did not serve long, less than a year, but in the Pacific Coast Conference he served as moderator, off and on, for fifteen years and also several times since. He also served on many different committees and boards in the Pacific Coast Conference and also in General Conference. Sometimes he was misunderstood and misquoted, but he stood true to his calling. He knew how to differ graciously with men and how to take abuse without retaliation. He was able to accustom himself to the continued change of time and customs, never straying from the Word of God, but still having the ability to understand people and adapt himself to their personalities.

In 1906, he was appointed Sunday-school field worker and district evangelist, serving in this capacity for eleven years. Brother Bontrager pioneered in evangelistic work on the west coast, taking up this work not long after being ordained. From 1906 to 1930 he was away from home more than half the time, traveling for thousands of miles in California, Idaho, Oregon, Montana, Washington, Canada, and in the east. He was in thirty-five states. Sometimes he was gone for four months at a time, and one time for five months. Many were the hardships he endured as an evangelist, often walking many miles to get to his destination, which may have been a schoolhouse, a lumber camp, or a home. On one occasion he walked fourteen miles through the Cascade Mountains. At four different times his life was threatened. He had a burden for souls and was a winner of them, never being ashamed of the Gospel wherever he went in his countless miles of travel.

He was very congenial, gentle, and gracious. He had a great love for children, always recognizing them in the home, in the church, and in his travels, and they loved him. He was a strong believer in gathering the children into the church while they were young and tender in years. He liked to work with the children in Sunday school, children's meetings, and summer Bible schools. A great love for young people was his too, always being interested in their spiritual welfare. He encouraged them to be active in the work of the Lord; such was the admonition given to the writer.

In the Oregon district of the Pacific Coast Conference, quarterly mission meetings have been held since 1911. Brother Bontrager's name appeared on the first program and many times since, as moderator, as the one to deliver the mission sermon, or as speaker on some vital topic.

During World War I he visited the Mennonite men in the western camps, encouraging them to remain true and faithful. During the last war he visited the C.P.S. camps in California, always enjoying the contacts he made with the boys of his own precious faith.

In all his labors he had a keen sense of responsibility, pursuing them energetically and being zealous for the work of the Lord. He would often say, "I would rather wear out than rust out." Truly, if anyone ever wore out for God it was Brother J. P., as he was sometimes called. The effect of his work for God and the church is plainly seen among our churches and the fruit will remain.

Lewis Josephus Burkholder, 1875-1949

By Oscar Burkholder

L. J. Burkholder, as he was best known to his brethren in the Ontario Mennonite Conference, was born June 15, 1875, about two miles east of the village of Markham, in the County of York, some twenty miles northeast of the city of Toronto. He was born on the farm where he spent his entire life. He was the eldest son of his father's second marriage. His father, Abraham G., was married the second time to Elizabeth Ressor thus bringing together two of the pioneer families of the district. There were eleven children in the two families. The first family was composed of six children as follows: Elizabeth, Mrs. David Steckley; Elsie,

Mrs. Enos Nighswander; Adeline, Mrs. Isaac Boadway; Maria, Mrs. David Brownsberger; Barbara, Mrs. Ozias Snyder; and Aaron. The second family, of which Lewis was the oldest, was as follows: Phares; Ada, Mrs. Noah Weber; Amos; and Norman.

On May 11, 1904, he was married to Lucetta High, of Vineland, Ontario, who passed away June 4, 1923. To this union was born one daughter, Luella, Mrs. Alvin Reesor. In May, 1925, he was married to Emma Meyer, of Markham, who passed away April 14, 1944. To this union was born one son, Paul. "L. J." passed away at his home on September 28, 1949 at the age of 74 years, 3 months, 13 days. During the last ten years of his life, he was not able to preach. At the beginning of this period he suffered a slight stroke, which later developed into blindness and gradual bodily weakness. These ten years were in great contrast to his intense activity in preaching and making his living. But he remained true to his faith, and we have every reason to believe he left for his heavenly home in triumph.

Brother Burkholder was ordained to the Christian ministry for the Cedar Grove congregation, Cedar Grove, Ont., on January 12, 1896, by Bishop Elias Weber of Breslau, Ontario, five months before he reached his twenty-first birthday. This was quite an historical event, for it was not customary in the Mennonite Church at this time to ordain men so young in years. But he had been converted under the ministry of J. S. Coffman about four years previous and was baptized on May 18, 1892, thus revealing the splendid type of evangelism that Brother Coffman rendered in those beginning years of evangelism in the Mennonite Church. And it was this same conviction and service that marked Brother Burkholder's entire ministry.

For "L. J." was much used by the church both at home and in the United States. But it must be mentioned here that a servant of the Lord, in order to be so much used, must live a steady life of great activity and corresponding sacrifice, and that such a program is shared by the family as well. Such is the record of this godly man and his family through his years of service.

In a number of instances he was a pioneer. After his ordination he decided not to be a farmer, but purchased several acres of land from his father near the place of his birth. Here he erected his home, and from here he carried out his entire ministry. In 1906 he was one of the strong supporters of the Bible school movement when the Ontario Mennonite Bible School was organized by the conference. He was one of the first teachers, with S. F. Coffman, in 1907. He was one of the first officers of the Nonresistant Relief Organization formed in 1917 and which has played such an important role in the relief work of the Mennonite Church in Ontario in the years since. He was one of the first ministers in the church to see the great good in the summer Bible school movement and gave it his hearty support. He was strongly missionary-minded and was among the brethren who organized the Rural Mission Board in Ontario and served as president and in various other capacities. It was while he was officially responsible for the outreach of this Board that he discovered the Ammon Mast family east of Clarence Center, New York, and began the revival of the Mennonite Church in this area.

Besides these beginnings he was a faithful and tireless supporter of the established work of the church. He served as moderator of the Ontario Conference longer than any other man before or since. He was assistant moderator of Mennonite General Conference for a term of two years. He was a faithful evangelist for a number of years and led many souls into the kingdom. He was a searcher for workers for the kingdom, and was the instrument in the Lord's hand to lead the writer into the ministry. He was acting bishop for the York County district for a number of years, when the problems were delicate and difficult of solution. He preached 2,836 sermons, the last one on December 31, 1939, at Cedar Grove on the text, Psalm 90:12. He was then only 65 years of age but had been preaching 44 years.

It is appropriate to ask, How could one person get so much done under such limited circumstances? For Brother Burkholder was truly a very versatile man. He was an excellent carpenter and cabinetmaker. Besides he was a very good repairer of clocks and watches. Added to this he was a good gardener, and a splendid apiarist. Then, too, he was a weaver of no mean ability. He wove the first rug for the floor of the Cedar Grove Church. He often used his various skills as illustrations in his sermons. He was intensely interested in old things in many lines and made a very valuable collection in his life time.

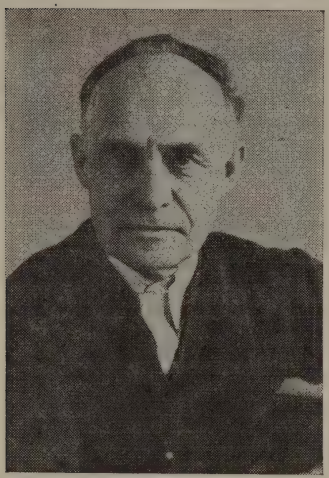
Naturally, then, he was also historically minded, and served as conference historian for many years. His crowning work in this field is his book, Mennonites in Ontario, which represents some of his most patient and painstaking work. He deserved a far greater reward for his effort than was given him.

Finally, Brother Burkholder is a shining example of "Little is much when God is in it." He had very few educational advantages. There was no high school, let alone college, in his youth program. He attended one year at the Elkhart Institute where he made some lifelong friends and received his initiation into the general program of the Mennonite Church. From there on it was, "prepare while you work and work while you prepare." "The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich," was his constant experience. He could truly say while he lived and served, and we say in his memory, "But by the grace of God I am what I am . . . yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me."

I am grateful for the privilege of writing this tribute to the life and work of my uncle, who has been a great inspiration to me to do my best under all kinds of circumstances.

John F. Bressler, 1881-1949

By Ira D. Landis



Brother Bressler was an apt student of the Scriptures, an exact expounder of God's truth, and an energetic servant of the Lord. His life unexpectedly ended near Mount Zion in Lebanon County, Pennsylvania, August 10, 1949. He preached his last sermon at Krall on August 7, earnestly admonishing his hearers with the "Let us" of the Epistle to the Hebrews. His audience rehearsed this admonition, "Let us," so frequently that with Brother Bressler now in glory, an indelible impression has been left to remain with them to eternity.

John F. Bressler was born July 31, 1881, in the home of William Z. and Sarah Catharine Sierer Bressler in Juniata County where "there were two stones to one dirt." He obtained all the education that the public schools would give him and the equivalent of two years of college. He taught in 1898-99 at Evandale, tutored algebra in the evening, and entered Elkhart Institute in April. He accepted the faith of his fathers and was baptized by Isaac Eby in the Delaware Creek in April, 1897.

He obtained a taste of mission work in the early days of our Philadelphia work and later at Chicago, where M. S. Steiner "arrested" him and appointed him in July 1903, as the first superintendent at Fort Wayne. On December 4, David Burkholder of Nappanee, ordained him at Fort Wayne. Here he was married to Anastasia Watson, January 29, 1905, by J. N. Kaufman. They remained at Fort Wayne until July, 1905, when B. B. King took charge.

From here they went to Filer and Nampa, Idaho, and then on to the Willamette Valley, Oregon. In 1908 they opened the first mission in Portland, but left in July, 1909, again for Pennsylvania. The Portland work closed until 1922, for he says, "I was without funds, the panic having reduced my earnings." Conditions became so bad they were obliged to break up housekeeping.

About this time he started a diary: "A new year has dawned with all its opportunities and possibilities as yet unrevealed. I am hoping and trusting that He will give grace and wisdom so that I need not miss any opportunity to glorify Him in life and in service. May this year be a year of greater labors, greater sacrifice, and closer communion with God than ever before, and may it result in greater good done." This was his zeal and often between a livelihood and churchwork he obtained but five hours of sleep.

Revival meetings, new in Lancaster Conference, demanded his attention with good results. In the winter of 1916-17 he was at Stauffer, Strickler, Marion, Pleasant View, and Pond Bank. He did not have a stereotyped series of sermons which he used everywhere he went.

In 1919 they moved to Lancaster. They buried two infants at Mellinger that year and in 1922, Leon, an adopted son, helped to keep Brother Bressler young. He was very busy improving himself and serving. In 1922 he helped to open the new Columbia Mission. About 1925 until the early thirties he was pastor of the Oak Shade work, and from April 1, 1926, to the summer of 1928, he did an excellent piece of work at Conowingo while the dam was being built. He aided J. Paul Graybill in the first summer Bible school in this conference in 1927, and helped often and many places in this movement later.

He was a diligent student with a marvelous memory. A sample of his love for knowledge and his ability to impart may be surmised by his Elkhart schedule in 1899: "I have 31 lessons per week, belong to two literary societies, attend four Bible classes and one teachers' meeting per week." In his studies for writing and preaching he depended upon both German and English authors, and especially British divines. He loved his Kitto's Bible and most of MacClaren's works. For anecdotes which were always apt, true to both life and Scripture, he used such as Arvine's Cyclopedia of Moral and Religious Anecdotes and Baxendale's Dictionary of Anecdotes. He also did some study in the Greek. His messages and writings show study, conciseness, analysis.

He has written two catechetical booklets for the General Sunday School Committee: God's Plan of Salvation and Divine Ordinances and Sacraments. His wider ministry and more permanent record is his Christian Monitor "Nuggets of Truth Found in Our Sunday School Lessons," appearing since January, 1932, in every issue until his death. The pungent statements throughout the years would make excellent reading if put into book form. A few excerpts of his style are here given:

"Heaven is a place of exceeding joy. . . . There will be no death in heaven and no tears. The saints shed all the tears here; the anguish of the sinners will be multiplied manifold in hell over the pains of this life."

"Hunger and thirst are signs of health, just as much so in the spiritual as in the natural. The body is desperately ill when the desire for food is gone; the soul is desperately ill when the desire for God has disappeared."

"He that comes to me for knowledge will not go away empty if I have it to dispense. . . . I believe in feeding the hungry, but I will not give you lunch, if you will throw it into the next garbage can that you pass—not if I know that you will do so."

In his last years he turned to teaching in the Christian day schools at West Fallowfield and the last year, after the death of his wife, at Meckville. During the summer of 1949 he had revivals at Parkesburg and in Franklin County. He was busy until the last. At his burial at Mellinger, some asked, "Could not the Mennonite Church make some provison to relieve the strain of our valuable men that they might serve us longer?" He planned to go over the path of earlier years the entire way to the West Coast, but instead went to glory. Those in the West who were awaiting him, He is now awaiting over yonder.

Charitable contributions include only contributions that were received by the Treasurer and not payments made by patrons of the charitable institutions. Other contributions not included in this tabulation are annuities and district board contributions not forwarded to the Treasurer at Elkhart. Most of the contributions under General Fund of missions have been used for home work. Figures are for the fiscal year ending April 1.

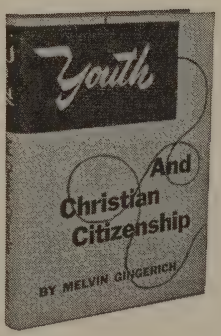
Youth and Christian Citizenship

By Melvin Gingerich

As Christians throughout the ages have learned, the ideals of life which are derived from the world's culture all too often fall short of the ideals of Jesus and not seldom stand in direct conflict with them. This is the case in many areas of life and particularly in the realm of social and political relationships, where the world's standards are so much sub-Christian.



Here, then, is the peculiar obligation and opportunity of the Christian church and her leadership to lead Christian youth to intelligent understanding and application of Christ's teachings in the current social and political scene. This is what Melvin Gingerich does for us in his clearcut, thoroughly Christian and practical discussion of the many questions in this area which youth must answer.

Ranging over a broad scope of topics, YOUTH AND CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP seeks to make real and practical in everyday life the basic Christian ideals which we cherish. May our youth find in it a valued source of vision, inspiration, and wisdom for the day in which they live.—Harold S. Bender, Chairman, Peace Problems Committee.

Parents, give this book to your youth.

Three Inescapable Questions

1. Are you, as a servant of God, conversant in Bible doctrine?

2. What book do you recommend to the earnest truth seeker?

3. Do you know what book is available on Bible teachings?

Doctrines of the Bible

Here is a comprehensive, practical book on the teachings of the church. Nearly any question which may arise on the Christian life is discussed. If you want to know more about God, the Trinity, or the Holy Spirit, turn to the first division of the book for explanations and Scripture references.

Other divisions discuss man, his redeemed state, death, revelation, the Bible, civil government, angels, Satan, unbelief, the minister, the devotional covering, anointing with oil, marriage, life insurance, love, nonresistance, the second coming of Christ, the resurrection, heaven, hell, and dozens of other subjects.

This book should be in every Christian home. Young married people, as well as the recent convert, should have a copy. Here are 639 pages in discussion of the Christian faith.

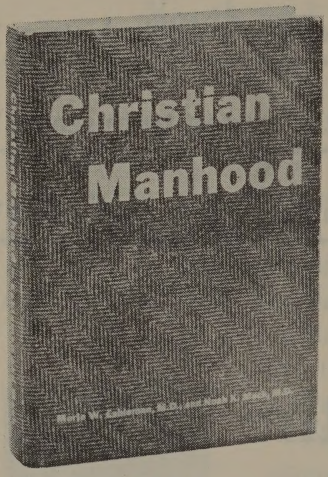
Christian Manhood

By Merle W. Eshleman and Noah K. Mack



Excerpts from the Book

"In our medical education and later in practice we have faced many of the problems which young people meet. We are keeping such problems before us, and in a frank, wholesome way, discussing them with the reader."

"Since blind dates are a fertile source of improper conduct, they are never proper. . . . Sorrow and disappointment have been the result of courtship in the home with dimmed lights and intimate embraces."

"If you will always remember that your body has been designed by a wise Creator, that all your body functions are part of that design, and that the provision of reproduction of the human race through the avenue of sex is from Him, then it will help you to maintain a proper attitude. 'Unto the pure all things are pure' (Titus 1:15). Sex, marriage, and childbirth are all sacred. It is only sinful man under the domination of Satan who turns these things to perverted and sinful uses."

"Marriage is not a license for unbridled exercise of animal passion on the part of the husband. Unfortunately, however, such marriages do exist. You will want to steer clear of any such pitfall. The wooing of your wife should not end on the wedding day; it should continue throughout wedded life."

"A man and woman who have lived clean lives need have no fear that they will suffer from venereal disease. A clean life free from any sexual irregularity before marriage is the best protection against these dreaded diseases."

Authors are Physician-surgeons and Ministers

The authors are both physician-surgeons and ministers of the Gospel. Here is a unique combined qualification to write a book on sex. The authors know that God created the male and female for a special and holy purpose. They give accurate information on the intimate problems facing young men.

Only the children of God and only those educated and trained in human anatomy, in physiology, and in hygiene, should speak with authority on the principles and problems of sex. Committed with a Christian guardianship of the physical and spiritual well-being of man, the joint authors of Christian Manhood are uniquely qualified to write on a subject which needs the Christian viewpoint.
